- c. Registration link is found on page 2, para #c,
- d. Why does my spouse have to pay nearly as much as me?
  - i. Because this year, when you open your SWAG bag, SHE is receiving some SWAG as well! Bout damn time huh ladies??? We asked a couple of wives for input, so rest assured ladies, you'll appreciate what you receive because we had adult supervision in deciding!

5. I'm only seeing one optional event, why is that?

- a. Lots of online interest in the Grand Canyon. In order to accomplish a Grand Canyon event, meant an all day event for well over half of the registrants.
- b. The Grand Canyon is a 12-14 hour event, so we left Saturday open to give those interested an entire day of nothing else planned to enjoy one of the greatest wonders in our world. A full day of touring, no rush to get back for a banquet. The particular tour we found will pick you up at our hotel it also takes you to, Kingsman AZ, Route 66, the Grand Canyon IMAX theater, lunch is provided at the famous Grand Canyon Village and Dinner in Kingsman on your way back. You'll be on an "ultra-comfortable" luxury tour bus with a potty! This tour is a flat $75 per person! They removed surcharges/taxes as a thank you to veterans and their families. Please check out this link, read about what you'll enjoy! <https://www.canyontours.com/grand-canyon-south-rim-bus-tour/> then decide!

- c. Traditionally, we prefer to tour in much larger groups with each other, breaking that down into several small trips with different companies sounded like herding cats, so we're going to send you links to several activities and tours in plenty of time to go over the list, decide what you want to see independently.
  - d. We've tried very hard to keep costs to a point that you'll have some extra money to see shows, concerts, those things that make up Las Vegas.
6. This year, your Alumni leadership and Planning Team 21 learned some hard truths about Sin City and coordinating a huge event, and that CoVid thing caused a bit of a commotion as you well know! There are a few changes that you'll notice, and please know, every decision was made with your enjoyment and best interests in mind!
